GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL APPLAUDS LAKE ERIE NATURE & SCIENCE CENTER STAFFER

Bay Village, Ohio --- The Lake Erie Council of Girl Scouts has applauded the work of Lake Erie Nature & Science Center Education Program Specialist Bev Walborn with a 2007 Honor Pin. Walborn, a volunteer Senior Girl Scout Troop Leader within the award-winning Bay Village Service Unit #605, received the individual kudos as part of this year's Adult Recognition Awards.

Calling Walborn a "tremendous asset" to all girl scouts, the Council also praised her work at Lake Erie Nature & Science Center "developing and presenting badge programs that benefit Girl Scouts throughout Northeast Ohio."

Walborn says she draws on her long-running service as troop Leader when she helps to lead or design a scout program for the Center. "I try to take my experience as a leader and blend that with what I do as an educator," she said.

This is the second year in a row that Lake Erie Nature & Science Center staffers have won recognition from the Girl Scouts. In 2006, The Lake Erie Council recognized Education Program Coordinator Carole Lynn Stradtman, who is also a Girl Scout volunteer, with an Appreciation Pin and presented a 2006 Community Appreciation Award to the Center. The award praised the Center's expanded Girl Scout programming as a "priceless" resource.
